1. Use the boxes around the outside to list your priorities for the week. There is a box for each subject as well as sport, etc.
2. Your priorities should include your study aims for the week or areas to focus your study on. Be as specific as possible.
3. On the main calendar, enter those things that have a fixed time. For example cricket/football practice 3-5pm Thursday, work 5-7pm Saturday, English Period 1, etc.
4. After filling in all of your responsibilities that have a fixed time, identify the times you have available for study.
5. NOW MAKE A COMMITMENT TO STUDY. Book in times for the priorities that you listed for each subject. If you organise your time in advance (every Sunday night) you are more likely to make the most of the time you have.
